

SOUTH MIAMI ROTARY 2017 ART FESTIVAL CANCELLED

Applications Being Accepted Soon for 2018 Event

SOUTH MIAMI (January 3, 2017) - The South Miami Rotary has cancelled its 2017 Art Festival due to a scheduling conflict. The organization has submitted its application to host the 2018 festival, February 24-25, 2018, and will be welcoming applicants shortly.

"We are saddened by this loss but look forward to a great event in 2018," said Wendy Lapidus, director of the festival.

The committee has refunded all artists' fees and is soliciting sponsors for the 2018 event, which it expects to be better than ever.

The Art Festival is produced entirely by volunteers of the South Miami Rotary Club. All proceeds fund the annual college scholarship for a South Miami student, contribute to a tutoring program within the city, and swimming lessons during the city's summer parks program, as well as their international community service projects.
